DEF LEPPARD REGRETFULLY ANNOUNCES CANCELLATION OF SAINT PAUL CONCERT

SAINT PAUL, Minn. – It was announced today that due to unforeseen personal matters, the third leg of Def Leppard's North American tour, including their scheduled Nov. 6 stop in Saint Paul, has been cancelled.

"We know how truly blessed we are to have such committed fans," said the band in a statement. "That's why we've agonized over this decision. Even if just a single concert, we don't take cancelling shows lightly, but unfortunately life's commitments need to be the priority."

Ticket refunds will be available at point of purchase. Fans that purchased tickets through Ticketmaster by phone or Internet will be automatically refunded. For more information on ticket refunds, please visit www.livenation.com. Fans may also contact the Xcel Energy Center Box Office at 651-726-8240 with questions.
